2/1/2012 16:08	aejarch	I agree + many older buildings outperform modern const RT @t4yt4m: A1: younger gens are drawn to it b/c of environ. awareness #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:09	callmebutton	A1: Younger look at heritage as almost something trendy sometimes, like finding something undiscovered. Being local related. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:09	HeritageRambler	A1: Nostalgia can focus people on big, obvious buildings. Not having nostalgic approach can drive you to find "hidden gems." #builtheritage"
2/1/2012 16:09	wanderu	Hi everybody! #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:09	CygnnetUpdates	A1: Common thread is probably desire to restore/preserve sense of place - regardless of age. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:09	jonaskayla	A1: I find older generation there are more volunteers who find heritage a hobby, younger generation looking for jobs #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:10	t4yt4m	A1: enviorn. awareness is engrained in younger gens heads - we grew up turning the faucet off. HP is the next logical step. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:10	wanderu	A1 People are complex. Even within generations, different folks have different motivations. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:10	PresNationLive	MT @lloydalter J Jacobs said "old ideas can use new buildings, but new ideas need old buildings" where new jobs/startups are. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:10	KyleGonyou	A1: Preservation draws all gens who care about the character and quality of the places they live. Maybe different approaches #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:11	PresNationLive	RT @delaneyhf A1: i find generations often have opposing aesthetic prefs - an internal draw to / battle in the profession #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:11	t4yt4m	A1: Re: young ppl looking for jobs: industry is filled with ppl who say "you can volunteer for that" not a lifelong volunteer #builtheritage"
2/1/2012 16:11	heritagetoronto	@jonaskayla - agree. The bulk of membership in our historical societies are older volunteers. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:11	KyleGonyou	MT @CygnnetUpdates: A1: Common thread is probably desire to restore/preserve sense of place - regardless of age. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:11	wanderu	@jonaskayla That's not unique to heritage sector. Younger generation more likely to be looking for jobs in all sectors. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:11	PresNationLive	Wow... 10-min questions go SO FAST. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:11	PresNationLive	Q2: How can Boomer, Gen X, and Millennial preservationists best work with and mentor their colleagues? #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:11	HeritageRambler	@jonaskayla Similarly, older people more inclined to join heritage groups, and many of them, in my experience. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:12	stevemouzon	just joining #builtheritage tweet chat - join us if you can! A1: yes, heritage is a markedly different issue to different generations
2/1/2012 16:12	heritagewriter	exactly RT @wanderu A1 People are complex. Even within generations, different folks have different motivations. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:12	PC_PresNation	RT @PresNationLive: Q2: How can Boomer, Gen X, and Millennial preservationists best work with and mentor their colleagues? #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:12	PresNationLive	@wanderu Hi, welcome! #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:12	jonaskayla	Love @callmebutton point about heritage being trendy and local related. I'd love to see heritage rebranded that way. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:12	stevemouzon	A1 (cont'd) anyone that doubts that should just watch incoming attendees at #builtheritage site for 30 minutes

2/1/2012 16:16	jonaskayla	YES!!! MT @CygnetUpdates A2: Respect the skills & perspective each brings- dont automatically discount them due to their age. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:16	KyleGonyou	@heritagewriter Queen's School of Urban and Regional Planning. Land use, sneaking in heritage. You? #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:16	HeritageRambler	A2: Young people should find existing heritage groups, and need to know these groups not always have strong online presence. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:16	PresNationLive	OMG, yes. MT @CygnetUpdates A2: Respect skills and perspective each person brings - don't automatically discount due to age. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:16	LandmarkWest	@t4yt4m Took the words right out of my mouth RE: A2: Millennials + social media; Boomers + group networking #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:16	stevemouzon	#builtheritage A2: because foci of each generation are so different, I wonder if cross-generational mentoring isn't as good as advertised?
2/1/2012 16:16	CygnetUpdates	Can work both ways.RT @heritagetoronto: A2: older generation has information/history. The younger can share/disseminate it. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:16	jonaskayla	Perfect match! MT @heritagetoronto: A2: The older generation has the info/history. The younger can share/disseminate it. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:16	t4yt4m	A2: GenXers aren't afraid of embracing the technology the Millenials were born using. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:16	heritagetoronto	@wanderu Time really is of the essence. Volunteers are (mostly) retired with the income to support groups. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:17	SheilaS	A2. Born in 1961, I'm considered a boomer but am MUCH more Gen X inside. Also pretty tech savvy. Don't make assumptions! :) #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:17	callmebutton	Generations get involved at diff times. More retirees are getting involved now that they have time. Reverse mentoring? #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:17	JohnGadsby	A2: Common ground. Current tavernkeeprs work w/ elem. school kids as Junior Docents, showing their love of history 2public. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:17	jonaskayla	RT @HeritageRambler: A2: Young ppl should find existing heritage groups, & need to know these not always have online presence #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:17	t4yt4m	A2: Struggle is getting older gens to accept the world is going digital. And that Millenials aren't trying to steal the power #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:17	heritagewriter	A2 Org I work for @nypaproject does oral histories w/ older preservationists. Impt to pass on those stories to new generation #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:17	wanderu	A2 We can all (inside and outside the heritage world) do more to respect the different life situations and problems we face. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:18	PresNationLive	A2: One thing @RocchiJulia & I talk about is the idea of reverse mentoring - Millennials/Xers helping older folks. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:18	jonaskayla	MT @heritagetoronto: @wanderu Time really is of the essence. Volunteers r (mostly) retired w/ the income to support groups. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:18	callmebutton	A2: @wanderu maybe more orgs should attempt young pres. membership rates...like student rates, but just a smidge more. #builtheritage

2/1/2012 16:22	PresNationLive	Q3: What sort of events/projects/activities should preservation orgs plan in order to attract different generations? #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:22	CygnnetUpdates	A2: Provide multi-generational opportunities. Kid & grandparents; parents & children - instill preservation values early. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:22	lloydalter	Boomers are not seniors, they are 45-65 and they own half of the ipads and iphones. They know how to text even. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:22	aejarch	A2: It's all about listening + finding common ground How can Boomer, Gen X, Millennial preservationists best work together? #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:22	sedesantis	#builtheritage A2: Easier way to find internships, as well as a bigger variety--more for non-architects, would help mentorship
2/1/2012 16:23	TourismCurrents	@LandmarkWest Love the idea of oral histories. It all comes back to storytelling. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:23	stevemouzon	@t4yt4m @callmebutton better model might be for #builtheritage orgs to serve as incubators for independent initiatives
2/1/2012 16:23	indeedemma	A2 I am used to email/text/tweet at all hours, over meeting in person, talking on the phone #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:23	callmebutton	@delaneyhf More and more of us millenials and Xers have the opportunity of a degree in the field, something not all others do #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:23	jbcurio	A3: Open houses, perhaps mixed with lectures and/or social activities? #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:24	HeritageRambler	A2: Many of the heritage people I deal with are 65+, and the best resources available. Young people need to talk with them. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:24	t4yt4m	A3: across the board MainStreet needs to realize that not all events should be $ based (Ladies Night). #builtheritage

2/1/2012 16:40	HeritageRambler	A4 Not sure if this is an issue. If so, key is thorough research. Diff't generations may not know about same resources. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:40	wanderu	A4 Interestingly though, many young heritage professionals have taken on big responsibilities and have a bigger voice. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:40	LandmarkWest	A4: To pick up on @callmebutton, put yourself out there! Conferences, pubs, on-the-ground advocacy. Let actions speak for you #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:41	heritagetoronto	Q4: Also I myself have had to gain the trust of the heritage elders. As @jbcurio says, show your commitment and get involved! #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:41	TourismCurrents	A4. Invite your newer or younger folks to write blog posts and give training. Sometimes they don't realize what they know. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:41	JL_Grillo	A4: This quandary spans professions that care for the #BuiltEnvironment - Seek out leadership opportunities & take charge #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:41	PresNationLive	A4: And on the flip side, not automatically shutting down w/ "We've already done..." May be worth trying w/ a new ppl. (2/2) #builtheritage"

2/1/2012 16:41	callmebutton	Q4: Maybe we should be thinking abt starting a young prez forum of our own. There's enough of us for a good weekend at least #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:41	jonaskayla	RT @heritagewriter: A4 show up! to community meetings, designation hearings, twitter chats... #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:41	t4yt4m	A4: I struggle w/ jurisdiction: Want to be part of 1 group, but can't afford to move. Group doesn't welcome outsiders #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:41	delaneyhf	A3: it worked! @LandmarkWest happy hr. spawned pratt alumni group to form to back their thriving student org @PrattHP #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:41	wanderu	A4 So my perception is that in the volunteer sector the voice of the young is less strong than in the prof. sector. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:41	jonaskayla	A4: Go to meetings, listen and observe, then take on a project that you can own and show what you can do #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:42	HeritageRambler	A4 Young researchers can save time, get more info, by asking vets for advice. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:42	wanderu	@t4yt4m Outsiders as in non-residents of the community? #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:42	JL_Grillo	A4: Also its essential to have a Veteran that's willing to empower his/her young professionals! #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:42	PresNationLive	@callmebutton But wait! News of that coming from Erika at @PresNation - whose Twitter handle I am blanking on! #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:42	heritagetoronto	@wanderu I absolutely agree. Sometimes we are unfairly associated with the "tear down" generation #builtheritage"
2/1/2012 16:42	jonaskayla	RT @HeritageRambler: A4 Young researchers can save time, get more info, by asking vets for advice. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:43	HeritageRambler	A4: I think I've earned respect from some vets by asking questions of them, showing willingness/ability to learn from them. #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:43	t4yt4m	@wanderu yes. I don't identify w/ the community I live in (worked in the 1 next door) - told "you don't live here, sit down" #builtheritage
2/1/2012 16:43	stevemouzon	#builtheritage A4: I found out years ago that even my heroes could use a helping hand. so I showed up and volunteered, and was drawn in.
2/1/2012 16:43	callmebutton	A4: My grad program is doing this thing where they pull in alumni for talks on what they're doing and how it connects. #builtheritage
